Dunlap Station Historical Cemetery

Headstones on the bottom left of this photograph were placed here from the Franklin Methodist Cemetery which was located on the south side of Blue Rock Road, southeast of Weik Road. The Franklin Methodist Cemetery was destroyed. The remaining headstones were moved to Dunlap Station Historical Cemetery in 1990 by Scott Rogers for his Eagle Scout Project. Twenty-one Memorials are identified from the Franklin Methodist Cemetery.

Huston Historical Cemetery

Huston Historical Cemetery is one of Colerain Township's more difficult to locate. This author is unable to find an exact address on Google Maps. I am at this time, attempting to correct the location identified. Below I have the link to the Cemetery, however, the Cemetery is just west of 3001 West Kemper Road and on the south side of W Kemper. If you go to the Satellite image on the Google Map, you will find the Cemetery surrounded by a rectangle of large trees. Additionally, there is no sign identifying the trail to the Cemetery. Colerain Township has a bridge spanning a small creek to access the north section of the Cemetery, but the bridge is in need of repair. The area around this and all of Colerain Township's Cemeteries are well mowed.

Location: Just west of 3001 West Kemper Road, Cincinnati, OH 45251

Richards-Gilbert Historical Cemetery

Huston Historical Cemetery may no longer be maintained by Colerain Township as the boundary lines have changed over the years. It was maintained at some point by Colerain because many Colerain Township people are buried here.

The photograph to the right identifies the unbelievable stairs that accesses the Cemetery. There is no driveway to park your car and when dropped off to photograph this picture, it was a dangerous situation due to constant traffic. I did not try to open the gate nor attempt to go up those stairs. I am just happy I was able to photograph this picture.
